Cats and Dogs – Four New Ways to Brighten a Child’s Day

Kintnersville, Pennsylvania – November 9, 2006 – Rocking Chair Studio announces the release of four new designs in the popular Can You Find? line of children’s greeting card games today. These new designs feature cats at play, kittens getting in trouble, a puppy with mom and a new get well card with critters waiting at the Vet.

Can You Find? cards add a fun hidden object puzzle to the ordinary greeting card. The new designs include Birthday designs: “Kittens in a Basket”, “Cats at the Gym”, and “Puppy and Mom.” The new get well design, “At the Vet”, will cheer up any child. Want to send one of these designs just for so? Order them blank inside and include your own sentiment.

Executive Director, Frank Fabian, asks, “Why send just a greeting card when you can send a game as well?”

Every Can you Find? card includes a hidden object puzzle where the top portion of the card shows a series of objects to be found. The main part of the card features a fun, vibrant watercolor illustration by Melinda Fabian with lovable critters or fun items. The reader searches for the objects in the picture. The level of difficulty ranges from very easy for children ages 3 and up, to difficult for teens and adults. These four new designs fall in the middle.

“I always wanted to create greeting cards, and the cards in stores for children were too sarcastic or sappy”, explains Melinda, “so I created a greeting card that was fun and wholesome based on my puzzles.”

The new designs are available for shipment to stores as of today. Check the website for a list of stores that carry Can You Find? cards in your area. Not close enough to a retailer? They are available for retail at www.rockingchairstudio.com.
